The Way

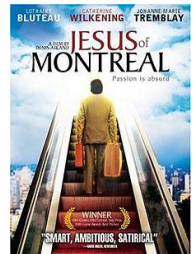

This is a film about Tom, an American doctor, whose son died in the Pyrenees while walking the pilgrimage of St. James (Camino de Santiago). Armed with his son's backpack and guidebook, he decides to complete the pilgrimage himself and soon meets others, all looking for greater meaning in their lives.

Jesus of Montreal (This film is in French with English subtitles)

The Passion Play in Montreal has become old-fashioned over the years and the priest in charge asks a young actor to update the play. The new show becomes a huge success but this incites the opposition of the Catholic Church while the actors' lives themselves begin to mirror the Passion itself.

Of Gods and Men (This film is in French with English subtitles)

Inspired by true events, this film tells the story of a group of Cistercian monks living in the mountain of North Africa. When an Islamic fundamentalist group massacres a team of foreign workers, fear sweeps through the region and the brothers have to decide whether to abandon the monastery and the community which depends upon them, or take the courageous decision to stay.
