

EDUCATION SUNDAY

2018: All are Welcome

Sunday 9th September

ST PETERS CHURCH, ADDINGHAM

How many times have you heard the saying;

"You're never too old to learn" or "Everyday is a school day"

... but is it true?

Well here's your chance to hear about and discuss life-long learning – in the community, via universities and in the church.

As part of Education Sunday, St. Peters Church in Addingham have arranged another event this year with three distinguished speakers who can tell us what is happening in each sector and what can we learn from each other.

The event will be held in the Church at 3.30pm – 5.00pm on Sunday 9th September

It will certainly be interesting and if the previous years' events are anything to go by, both entertaining and enjoyable. Do come and hear what they have to say, you will be very, very welcome.

The meeting will be chaired by Prof. Arthur Francis, and the panel comprises;

Roger Bainbridge – until recently chair of Ilkley & District U3A

Dr. Jonathan Muir – Director of on-line programmes at Leeds University Business School

Dr. Hayley Matthews – Diocesan Director of Lay Training

*Why not make an afternoon of it, and arrive early to enjoy a cup of tea / coffee and a slice of homemade cake which is served by FOSPA from 2.00pm in the church hall.
